SAVE ONE LIFE
AT THE STUDIO OF ARTIST HUNT SLONEM
TUESDAY, MAY 18, 2010

Hunt Slonem lives and works in his legendary loft and studio, which houses an aviary of exotic birds. His paintings are in prominent private and public collections, among them The Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum and the Whitney Museum of American Art. This is a fantastic opportunity to meet the world-renowned artist and to support Save One Life while enjoying the music, food and flavors of Bollywood chic.

The Board of Directors of Save One Life, Tara Reddi and Laurie Kelley invite you to join us for a special evening to support Save One Life with a Cocktail Reception at the Studio of Artist Hunt Slonem 545 West 45th Street, 4th Floor, on Tuesday, May 18th from 6:30 to 8:30 in the evening. Festive dress or Bollywood Chic is encouraged.

The mission of Save One Life is to encourage individuals and organizations to focus their compassion and resources on improving the quality of life of people with bleeding disorders and their families in developing countries. We do this at the grassroots level, through direct sponsorship.

Save One Life identifies people with bleeding disorders in the developing world who need aid; matches them with sponsors who offer long-term friendship and direct financial support; improves quality of life through education and better medical treatment; and supports and trains local hemophilia organizations through financial aid and applied business principles. 100% of donations go directly to the sponsored child and his local chapter and not to overhead.

We would like to thank CSL Behring for generously underwriting this event.

Bollywood Chic!
